TIMBER- INSPIRED TILE

Timber has long been a coveted look for floors but has the added worry of damage from pets, high heels, and scratches, along with fading and water absorption. For this reason, timber-look tile continues to attract. Given its ability to look warm and inviting in living areas, foyers and in a full bathroom with both walls and floors, it's not surprising that wood-inspired tile is a popular choice for architects, designers, builders and renovators. It's also the perfect option for underfloor heating in Bathrooms and all living areas.
